

Since its inception Brisbane Powerhouse has commissioned a vibrant and varied program of public art works in and around the Powerhouse building. These works reflect the history of Brisbane Powerhouse, and its status in the cultural landscape of Brisbane. Brisbane City Council and the Powerhouse have worked closely with co-curators Jay Younger and Ann-Maree Reaney and project managers Queensland Artworkers Alliance to assemble a diverse public art component for the precinct featuring work by some of Australia's most talented artists.
