YouTube Your Own Adventure!
by Hooray for Everything
Brisbane Comedy Festival 2009

Bringing an innovative new-world approach to delivering comedy at the inaugural Brisbane Comedy Festival is local act, Hooray for Everything, with their show YouTube Your Own Adventure! This ground-breaking show takes the audience on a technological journey of hilarity, fusing a bizarre mix of music, comedy and stunts into a show purely controlled by YouTube-style audience mouse clicks.

Talk about audience participation! With a computer mouse in hand, the audience has the power to control what comes next in this inventive production by clicking on the 'YouTube' thumbnail menu projected onto the set. Everyone becomes involved in this wacky stage show – with individual dialogue created with the audience, and more thumbnails than there's time for, no two shows are ever the same.

Highlights of their current show soon to hit Brisbane include an extraordinary hotwired keytar which zaps Matt as he sings Good Vibrations (as if that isn't enough a remote control 'electrocutor' is then handed to the audience!). Another memorable moment is their rendition of Michael Jackson's Billie Jean, which they all play simultaneously on the one guitar!

This unique show is touching down at the Turbine Rehearsal Room, Brisbane Powerhouse from March 06 – 07, 2009, at 7:30pm for what will be their first performance of YouTube Your Own Adventure!

Comedic trio; Matt Emery and brothers Phil and Steve Driver formed the group Hooray for Everything six years ago. Since their humorous beginnings at Triple J's 2003 Raw Comedy Competition, where they took out the Queensland Grand Final, they have been very busy; released three studio albums, supported the likes of Eddie Ifft and Stephen K Amos, performed two shows at the Melbourne International Comedy Festival as well as nearly 400 shows to laughing audiences nationwide including The Sydney Comedy Store, Melbourne's Trades Hall and the Brisbane Powerhouse.

Join the absurd hi-tech humour-filled voyage that is YouTube Your Own Adventure!
